AWARE 2007/2008 Annual Board Presidents Report

Fiscal year 2007 – 2008 was a year of ups and downs for AWARE, Inc. and the board. Thankfully it was mostly “ups.” We lost our director of less than two years in May 2008, but were fortunate to have a person on staff to act as interim director until we could hire a replacement.

In November we were fortunate to find a very capable person to lead AWARE into the future. We hired a local, long-time Jackson resident, Rebecca (Becky) Filip, as our Executive Director. Many of you may know her and appreciate her passion for our community and for the mission of AWARE.

Under Becky’s leadership, the agency has thrived. She has put together a team that is as passionate about our mission to empower survivors of domestic and sexual violence as she is. They are a dedicated, creative, hard working, and fiscally responsible group. AWARE, thanks in large part to previous boards and our staff’s diligence, continues to be a financially stable organization.

Some of the 2007 – 2008 highlights I can remember are a very successful Fall Appeal Campaign, the most successful Historic Home Tour in our history, and the Phenomenal Women dinner, an event that was the brainchild of one of our most enthusiastic staff members, at which survivors of domestic and sexual violence told their stories. We also sponsored the movie, Iron-Jawed Angels, depicting women’s struggles to have the right to vote.

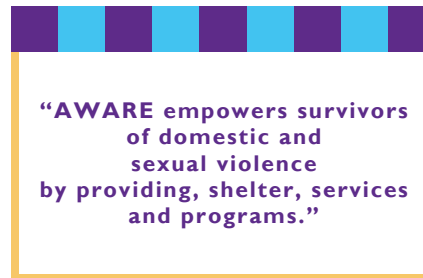

Also, this was a year in which we began an intensive campaign to educate our board about the services and programs AWARE offers and to learn best practices for governance and policy setting. Thanks to our staff, we receive a briefing at each board meeting on their duties and responsibilities, and most of our board has attended one or more of the governance seminars being offered by JNSC.

Lastly, we recruited four community volunteers with a passion for our mission to replace board members who will be term-limited in February.

I invite you to attend our annual meeting on February 25, 2008, 5:00PM, at the Carriage House, to meet our board, our great staff, and our very capable and dedicated director, Becky Filip.

Thank you for your support of AWARE and our mission.
Sincerely,

Travis Fojtasek

LaDonna Glenn
Domestic Violence Program Coordinator

Transitional Housing

The Transitional Housing Program at AWARE, Inc. assists domestic violence survivors in bridging the gap between leaving their domestic violence situation and creating an independent, violent-free life for themselves (and their children if applicable). Our program helps clients accomplish self-identified goals during their time in the program. We also assist with rent and specific assistance according to the nature of the client's needs, for up to two years. The goal of the program is to ensure the successful transition stated above, and for clients to be self-sufficient at the end of the program. Clients undergo extensive case management to work on their self-identified goals, which include but are not limited to seeking employment, enrolling in school full-time etc.

Transitional Housing Workshops and Activities

Every month Transitional Housing offers one or more workshops. All of the workshops are free. Childcare and transportation is provided for our transitional and shelter clients. The workshops cover beneficial life skill areas. Some of our past transitional workshops topics include:

- ◆ Budgeting
- ◆ Personal Growth & Empowerment
- ◆ Tenant Rights
- ◆ Resume, Cover Letter & Reference Page Writing
- ◆ Highly Esteemed Part I & Choosing Healthy Relationships
- ◆ Dress For Success
- ◆ Self-Esteem Mary Kay Workshop (included free facials, satin hands & a makeover)
- ◆ Interviewing Skills

- ◆ Self-Defense along with Children's Stranger Safety

The Transitional Housing Program hopes survivors will learn, grow and enjoy the workshops and gain the tools to better empower themselves. Survivors are encouraged to attend as many workshops as they can.

For the 2007– 2008 fiscal year Transitional Supportive Housing has assisted 6 single women, 17 families, and 48 children with housing, specific needs and support services. Sexual Assault

Sexual Assault Program Services

AWARE's Sexual Assault Program provides empowering resources to help victims of sexual assault. There have been changes in personnel, but the delivery system of services continues to empower the survivors of sexual assault to heal from their ordeals. Kelly Schweda resigned from AWARE to lead a program at MSU. LaDonna Glenn came on board to lead the program in the fall.

The Sexual Assault Program gave services to 220 survivors or family members in 2007-2008. Even with the changes in personnel, clients responding to client satisfaction surveys reported the following:

- ◇ 100% agreed or strongly agreed that overall the services they received were helpful.
- ◇ 100% agreed or strongly agreed that the therapist was helpful during the criminal justice process.
- ◇ 90% agreed that they received the information and referrals they needed.

The SANE program has 5 nurses providing forensic sexual assault exams, and one more nurse is completing her training. In 2007-2008, the SANE program provided 53 exams. The Sexual Assault Task Force (SATF) became more pro-active in its quest to provide pediatric exams. One goal of the SATF is to have a Child Advocacy Center (CAC) for Jackson County.

In this time period, a great deal of education took place in the county. AWARE made 118 presentations in schools, primarily focusing on "Good Touch, Bad Touch," and reached 3044 students. There were 21 community presentations which touched 420 community members. We foresee 2008-2009 as a year filled with growth and activity.

Linda L. Schwalm
Sexual Assault Program Coordinator

Children's Program

The focus of the children's program at AWARE is to empower children to recognize and utilize their positive characteristics within themselves. As the children AWARE serves have experienced abuse/violence in their families, they often look at the world through a lens of fear and mistrust. During the year a total of 381 children received services. As the new Family Advocate for AWARE, my goal was to develop and execute programming and activities that will begin the healing process for these children. These trips provided the children and mother's an opportunity to go places together as families without any financial barriers. Field trips included pizza and games at Chuckie Cheese, a day at Irish Hills where we went on a train ride, toured museums, drove go-carts, a Detroit Tiger's baseball game where we met famous athletes, Binder Park Zoo where we fed and touched the noses of giraffes, the Teddy Bear Factory where each child stuffed and made their own bear, and a buffalo ranch where we went on a wagon ride and hand fed buffalo. These trips provided first time and unforgettable experiences for many of the children. During the first six months there were a total of 26 activities provided. By the end of the year, AWARE had provided 95 activities. AWARE more than doubled the number of activities for the children, more than quadrupled the units spent, and by collaborating with Jackson Public Schools there were no extra expenses accumulated. Also during the last six months of the year 348 children and 123 mother's participated in AWARE's activities. As reported on the Children's Program Feedback forms, 100% of the parents were pleased with the services they received.

There also was a Mother's Group implemented into the children's program. This group was designed to assist families in dealing with crises and trauma, as well as meet the need for parenting education. 123 women participated within FY 2008. 90% reported having gained a new positive parenting skill.

The Kids Club program for 6-12 year old children also began to run on a regular basis. The numbers more than doubled in this area, as well. The program went from 8 sessions in the first six months of the year to 18 in the last six. From April 08-Sept. 08, 89 children attended Kids Club. Through collaboration with the University of Michigan, Kids Club was also provided services for 4-6 year old children. Surveys indicated 100% of the parents were pleased with the services they received and reported symptom reduction in their children, as well.

During the year AWARE provided childcare 106 times and spent 1,431 total units. From April 08-Sept. 08, transportation was provided to 191 mothers and children, with 170 total trips made for activities.
